THE NEWS.

We present, to-day, the latest intelligence from Europe, which we have received at this office, which, in point of length, is very unusual. The latest of which we have any account, is the arrival of the Arctic at New York on the 14th. The Arctic has come early, and has left early, and has had a fine passage. The Europa left Liverpool on the 10th, and the Arctic left Cowes on the 11

LOCAL MATTERS.

Religious Notice.

The Rev. Nathaniel Colver, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist Church, will preach in the Final Baptist Church, this evening and the following evenings this week.

MR. GREELY ON PROHIBITION.

Horace Greely spoke to a very large audience at North Market Hall, last evening. The notice was only published in one paper and by small posters a few hours before the hour of meeting, but the crowd of persons that went to hear him was tremendous, and large numbers left because they could not get into enough to hear him.

Of the speech, it is scarcely necessary to speak. Like Mr. Greely's editorials it was a plain, sensible, and unanswerable argument against the use of alcohol—following out its consequences, by apt and most amusing illustration, its quality as a poison, and was frequently applauded by applause.

Of course, Mr. G. is a great object of interest wherever he goes. As a man whom best-informed men respect by, and always respected—as the best-known writer of newspapers, and as editor of a paper that circulates more in number of copies per the public mind than any other one journal in the U. S., he is deservedly popular, and wins his way down Wall's cuticles wherever he speaks.

Mr. G. left this morning at 8 o'clock for Albany in New York.

TO TEMPERANCE LECTURERS.

At a meeting of the "West Chicago Temperance Union," held on Monday evening, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That such gentlemen as are disposed to lecture in favor of the Prohibitory Liquor Law, be solicited to address the people at points named in the Union; that such towns or localities as may wish to secure the services of these gentlemen may apply for the labors of able lecturers.

It is very desirable that every locality be thoroughly awake to the importance of immediate and determined action in order to carry the Prohibitory Law. Such gentlemen as would comply with the above resolution should immediately address the Secretary of the Union, Gustinaux, as follows: When will it be convenient for you to visit ——, and what will be your charges for your services?

THE SUNDAY LAW VIOLATED IN ROUND ROW.

Chicago, March 27th, 1855.

Dearest Tribune: There's no doubt that every American of our city, who is American at heart, does and must feel gratified to Mayor Boone for the change he is effecting in our city government, which is apparent to every discerning mind, especially for the comparative quietness among the beer saloons and low dungeons on two Sabbaths past. There is one noted place, however, in our city, where the saloons were not closed yesterday. The place referred to is very appropriately received the name of "Round Row," A few of the druggists had their shutters up, but a majority were open, and as full upon Sunday as on Cold Day. I went to one of the beer saloons, and called for some brandy. The saloon keeper refused to sell me any, referring to the law that prohibited selling on the Sabbath. The three persons who served the saloon keeper that they were "all right," and they would pledge their honor that they were all right. They persisted, and the accursed beverage, praised by good qualities, and assured the bar-keeper that they would get what poor whisky they wanted any where along the Row," on pain of punishment.

Will not our Mayor deem it necessary to station some of the police in this noted sink of iniquity next Sabbath, and bring some of the offenders to justice?

J. B. Dyer.

Engagement for the Bridewell Convicts.

Mr. Horace stated in his place in the Council, on Monday night, that the expense of the city, for keeping the convicts in the South Division alone, during the last week, had amounted to $45. At this time there were a large number of persons in the City Bridewell, fed at the expense of the city, and kept in idleness. Cannot they be set to work as soon as the weather clears up, and be made to keep the streets and crossings clean?

PRODUCE AND COMMISSION.—We desire to call attention to the card of Mr. Gurdon M. How, who has commenced a Produce Brokerage and general Commission business at 141 South Water street, up stairs. Mr. How is of the late firm of How & Hitt, of Lasalle, and has a most thorough knowledge of the business, and as extensive acquaintance among the produce buyers in the Eastern and Western markets. The high character he has borne as a business man, and a gentleman, warrants us in recommending him to those who may have need of the services of a Produce Broker or Commission Merchant in the city.

MR. LOUIS ANSCHUTZ has returned to Chicago, and announces in our paper this morning, his intention to resume his profession of lecturer of Music. Mr. L. is highly endowed with talents for that profession, and we doubt not that he will give great satisfaction to his former pupils, and also to those who, having learned his happy adaptation to teaching, desire the advantage of his instruction.

Increase of Trade.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather and the unfavorable state of the roads, the receipts on the Michigan Southern Railroad has already increased to such an extent that it has become necessary to put on a fourth passenger train. It is currently reported that

Smith's Electrical Soap,

This soap continues to grow in favor with the public. Those who have tried it are loud in its praise, and discover in it new virtues. We advise every man who is fortunate enough to have a wife, to get a cake of it for the next washing day, save the women much trouble, vexation, and toil, and ensure their generally angelic instincts to a greater shining degree. This soap is the object for washing of all kinds; it is a remedy for cleaning silks, flannels, linens, calicos, &c., and is soft and grateful to the pores. It is mild and white, and has that delicate appearance of ice cream than of soap. It is costly made, is very cheap, is better the longer it is kept, and bids fair to drive all other soaps out of the market. The recipe can be bought for $1, and a barrel of it can be made for $1 25. As inventors are scarce, selling a spurious article, purchasers will be careful to buy of no one but Charles L. Morrill, who will visit the citizens for the purpose of selling the recipe. He has a certificate from Dr. J. Y. E. Blaney of the value of the soap.

Putnam's Monthly for April.

The April number of this excellent magazine has been received by A. H. & C. Sherman, 121 Lake street. It is a good number. It is enriched by several first class articles. Its publication is announced on the 1st of May. No publication will be issued by Messrs. Dix and Edwards, who have bought the concern, and will conduct it under an entirely new editorial management.
